"Zero Waste – Just a Click Away"

Lawrence Grodeska

Bay Regional Online Recycling Database Project Lead
Internet Communications Coordinator | SF Environment
City|County of San Francisco

The San Francisco Department of the Environment (SF Environment), Alameda County (StopWaste.org), Palo Alto Zero Waste Program and the City of San Jose have partnered to create a new software platform for managing and sharing their recycling information. Lawrence will profile the fiscal and programmatic collaboration between project partners and preview the new online recycling database tool, scheduled to launch October 1, 2011.

"Plastic Bag Ban – Lessons Learned"

Diko Melkonian

General Superintendent
Environmental Services Bureau - City of Long Beach

The City of Long Beach recently implemented a Single-use Carryout Bag Ordinance that prohibits large retail establishments in Long Beach from providing single-use plastic carryout bags to customers at point of sale, and prohibits the free distribution of paper carryout bags. Diko will discuss implementation issues, public education efforts and the extension of the ban to small retailers on Jan 1, 2012.

"New Eyes for Crime Prevention"

Kris Spilsbury

Manager of Security
Western Group of Waste Management and WASTE WATCH Program

Helping keep neighborhoods safe is one way that Waste Management partners with municipalities. Through their WASTE WATCH Program, Waste Management provides special training to its drivers in what to look for and how to report suspicious or criminal activity. They assist local police and fire departments by acting as extra eyes and ears on local streets. Kris will profile the accomplishments of this unique driver-training program.
